The Daily Union Vindicator.

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 3, 1861.

Argumentative.

Don't fail to read the paper on Sunday. The Telegraph is rich. As an example of the self-sacrificing nature of the Polygamist, the writer says:

"Now what awful crime does an honorable Polygamist commit? Simply this—he finds more than one woman who wishes him to become her husband, and sooner than virtually compel either of them to have a husband she does not like or die a spinster he generously consents to act the part of husband to both. Is there any crime in that? Anything degrading? Not that we can see."

Yes—Sing Sing is running over with just such philanthropists as those.

Again the brilliant genius of the Telegraph argues as follows:

If to marry one woman and raise up her children to honor and usefulness is evidence of the excellent qualities of manhood, how much greater evidence of such excellent qualities is it to marry ten or twenty women and raise up the children of them all to honor and usefulness? If the faithful husband of one wife is an excellent man and an honorable member of society, is not the faithful husband of all these wives likely to be a still more excellent man, and a still more honorable member of society?

Following the same line of argument we will assume that Stenhouse finds his organs of hearing very useful appendages. Now would it have been an improvement had he been created with a pair ten inches longer.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VEDETTE.]

The Presidential Party at Rochester.

Speeches of Gov. Brownlow and others at Philadelphia.

Nominations for Congress.

Napoleon announces an Era of Peace.

New York, Sep. 1.

Queen Emma of the Sandwich Islands started home to-day, via Aspinwall; she was at Montreal when intelligence of the death of her mother came by telegraph. The Post's money article says, loan market unchanged; Governments firmer; railroad shares closed with upward tendency; steamers for Europe to-day took out three hundred thousand in specie and four millions of bonds.

London, Sep. 1—Noon. Consols, for money, 89½; five-twentieths 72½; money market unchanged.

Liverpool, Sep. 1—Noon. Cotton dull, quoted at 13½; breadstuffs dull.

The royal steamship China sailed to-day for Halifax and Boston with £153,000 in gold for the United States.

Philadelphia, Sep. 1.

The Union League gave a grand reception to Thomas J. Durant, of New Orleans, and other prominent Southern delegates in the city.

Durant in the course of his remarks said:

The unfortunate, whose circumstances permit them, are now flying from their homes in the South to seek refuge, hospitalities and freedom of religion and discussion here in the North. How long is this to continue? How long will it be for the loyal people of the Union will give the loyal men of the South a government where opinion is free—where every man shall have a right to express his sentiments in vote and words—where he shall have the respect and privilege of communicating in every respectful way what he thinks and what he has to say? Do you not know that liberty of speech is dead in New Orleans, and that American citizens were slaughtered in the streets of New Orleans under the American flag without provocation?

Ex-Governor Hamilton also spoke. In the course of his address he said:

Prepare your heart and arms too perhaps for another conflict. (Cries of, we are ready.) You know the wicked element that has produced this feeling, and it is with deep regret that I make this prediction, after the sad and gloomy events of the last four years; but we are to ignore our friends North and South? Wretched have been my prejudices in the past I am willing to ignore the black man any longer.

Gov. Brownlow said he came to listen to Mr. Durant; he had often heard of the proof of New Orleans and he desired to hear the proof of New Orleans. He had concluded a journey of one thousand miles in forty-eight hours, and came at the head of 50 loyalists of Tennessee; they came to a Convention of what was termed by executive mean whites and poor sneaks; but it was a Convention where it would not be necessary to hold a caucus in order to securing a majority of the delegates in order to give harmony, nor would it be necessary to muzzle the press.

Having seen the man who placed Andrew Johnson in nomination, as God had forgiven him, he hoped the people of Pennsylvania would also forgive him, but he would say, it would have been better if the whole of Tennessee delegates had been in Libby prison, instead of in Baltimore. In regard to the South he would say, that if the spirit of the South and the rebellious spirit, combined with the treachery and copperheadism of the North shall bring another war upon this country, and force you to leave your wives and children, your homes and parents, and invade the South to put it down, I want to have something to say about the division of the forces. Let there be three divisions: Let the first go armed according to the regulations with small arms and artillery, and let them do the killing; let the second go with pine-knots and burning torches, and let them do the burning; let the third go, with surveyors compasses and chains, and we will set out the lands and settle the country with men who will honor this glorious banner. (Cheers.)

Rochester, Aug. 1.

The President was more formally received here than at any place since he left Albany. The President after lunch appeared on the balcony of the hotel and was officially welcomed by Mayor Moore, who said the reception was tendered irrespective of party. The President in response to this speech, said, "I am very much pleased to be here, and I am very much pleased to be in the city which you have given me, and will furthermore say that a demonstration like this inspires me with confidence and urges me to the preservation of the Union and vindication of the Constitution." I rely on the intelligence, integrity and patriotism of the great mass of the American people to preserve this Government in peace as in the past emergencies. Though the physical man is weak and the intellect is not as strong as it ought to be, I thank God the spirit is right; (applause) and as long as the blood that new veins, the best energies of my manhood shall be devoted to the interests of the Union and the Constitution, (Applause.) I see before me the colors you have borne through the conflict of battle. You are aware of the sacrifices which have been made to preserve the Union, and therefore it is not for me to recount the number of lives lost and of maimed, and the amount of treasure expended. Now that the war-like struggle has passed, I commit to your hands—the hands of the people and officers and soldiers, God bless them!—the flag of our country, the Constitution of the United States, and the Union, and permit me, in the sincerity of my heart to thank you for this reception and bid you farewell. (Applause.) Let me invoke the blessing of heaven to rest upon the people of all the States.

Brockport, Aug. 1—1.15 P. M.

Notwithstanding the rain, a very large concourse greeted the President and party.

Albion, Aug. 1—2 P. M.

The train halted here 15 minutes, when Hon. Sanford E. Church extended a cordial welcome to the President, who briefly responded. The distinguished excursionists were introduced, and received cheers from all beholders.

New York, Aug. 1.

The steamer Pioneer, of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Line to China, leaves this port on the 1st of October next.

Emperor Napoleon, in a letter, written to King Victor Emmanuel on Aug. 11th, rejoices that the era of peace has returned. He says he accepted the mission of Venice from Austria in order that the people of that country might choose their own destiny. France, the Emperor adds, has formed her influence in favor of humanity and the best interest of the people of Venice and Italy.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.

The Russian government, prior to the negotiation of peace, proposed to the French Emperor and other powers that neutrals should participate in the territorial changes occasioned by the results of the war. The proposition was not sustained by France or England, and the Czar refrained from officially moving in the matter, reserving, however, liberty of action to himself in the future.

Chicago, Aug. 30.

Meigs, J. J. Combs, H. W. Hoffman, J. S. Fowler, J. D. DeForest, and W. J. Cowing having called a meeting at Philadelphia, for September 3d, of the National Executive Committee appointed by the Baltimore Convention of 1864.

Henry J. Raymond, Chairman of that Committee, published a call for it to meet at the Astor House on September 3d.

Marcus E. Ward, Governor of New Jersey, and a member of the Committee, publishes a letter repudiating Raymond's call.

Raymond replies, "it is a matter wholly within your own discretion whether you attend the meeting of the National Executive Committee called in this city for the third of September, or not, but I am not aware that you have the right to overrule the action of the National Convention by which, in common with you, I was made a member of that Committee, or that of the Committee itself, by which I was made its Chairman and Treasurer. My object in calling this meeting was to afford the Committee an opportunity to take such action in the regular form as in its judgment the conditions and interests of the Union party may require. If its members should not choose to attend it, my duty will have been performed. I hope I need not add that I have no desire to hold any official position in the National Committee of the Union party or of any other against the wish of its members."

Yours very respectfully,

H. J. RAYMOND.

The Illinois Democratic State Committee yesterday adopted again the Philadelphia declaration of principles, and nominated Col. T. Lyle Dickory, of Ottawa, for Congressman at large, General Sesse Phillips for Treasurer, and Col. J. M. Creeds for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The Republicans of Philadelphia have nominated for Congress J. R. Lyndall, Charles O'Neill, L. Myers, and Wm. D. Kelly; the opponents of Kelly have nominated Alex. Henry.

Gov. Ward, of New Jersey, has named Chas. S. Olden, Fred. T. Frelinghuysen, R. Field, Alex. C. Caldwell, J. T. Nixon, W. A. Newell, J. C. Torrick, and G. T. Cobb among others to attend the Philadelphia Convention, and to convey to its members our sympathy with their sufferings, our confidence in their patriotism and the assurance of aid and support to their loyal people in securing a government of peace, liberty and justice.

Rhode Island sends Sen. Burnside, Senators Anthony and Sprague, ex-Gov. J. T. Smith, Hon. Josiah Dixon, Barnes and Sears, President of the Brown University.

The District of Columbia sends R. J. Meigs, J. E. Evans.

Delaware sends Smith and Benjamin J. Durant.

The Montana Prize Fight.

(From the Helena Republican, Aug. 26th.)

The long talked of fight between Con. Orem and Hugh O'Neill took place yesterday afternoon at the former scene of pugilistic encounters, about a mile from the town. We are convinced that the audience did not number over one thousand at the commencement of the fight, and not over two thousand at any time during its progress.

The seconds of Con. Orem were James Connolly and William Dryer. Hugh O'Neill's seconds were Joe Kelly and Mike McDermott. By agreement of both parties, Farmer Post was made referee and Sol. Sturman was appointed timekeeper. O'Neill won the choice of positions.

As the two men entered the ring one could not help noticing the disparity in their sizes, an almost sufficient reason in itself for the odds of two to one that had been bet in favor of O'Neill since the announcement of the fight. O'Neill's weight was 187 pounds and that of his antagonist 140 pounds. Neither of the men seemed to be in any hurry to commence the fight, but at fourteen minutes of three they came smilingly up to the scratch, and after shaking hands "went in."

In the fifty-first round there was some heavy striking in which Orem receives the most severe blows. They clinch, O'Neill throws his opponent and in his excitement strikes him a side blow while down. The cry of "foul" was immediately raised, and the referee decided that Con. Orem had won the fight through the striking of a foul blow by O'Neill.

The fight ended at twenty-one minutes of four, ending at fifty-three minutes. Both combatants were quite bloody at the close of the contest, but there was no serious injury, and there was no perceptible diminution of spirit in either of them.

Con's general policy was to play strategy, dodge and fall, and thus preserve himself. He was by far the coolest man of the two, and evidently placed more reliance in science than did his powerful antagonist.

There is no doubt that Hugh O'Neill is the most powerful man, and would find Orem on easy conquest in a rough and tumble fight.

O'Neill asserts that he will fight Con. Orem, being not yet satisfied.

It was announced that Shannon and Reilly would fight to-day.

The New Bounty Bill.

At the request of numerous subscribers we republish the Bounty Bill, as signed by the President:

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That to each and every soldier who enlisted into the army of the United States after the 19th day of April, 1861, for a period of not less than three years, and having served his term of enlistment, has been honorably discharged, and who has received, or is entitled to receive, from the United States, under existing laws, a bounty of $100, and no more; and any such soldier enlisted for not less than three years who has been honorably discharged on account of wounds received in the line of duty, and the widow, minor children, or parents in the order of ed of any such soldier who died in the service of the United States, or of disease or wounds contracted while in the service and in the line of duty, shall be paid the additional bounty of $100 hereby authorized.

Sec. 2. That each and every soldier who enlisted into the army of the United States after the 19th day of April, 1861, during the rebellion, for a period of not less than two years, and who is not included in the foregoing section, and has been honorably discharged therefrom after serving two years, and who has received, or is entitled to receive, from the United States, under existing laws a bounty of $50, and no more; and any soldier enlisted for less than two years, who has been honorably discharged, on account of wounds received in the line of duty; and the widow, minor children, or parents, in the order named, or any such soldier who died in the service of the United States, or of disease or wounds contracted while in the service of the United States and in the line of duty, shall be paid the additional bounty of $50 hereby authorized; provided that that any soldier who has forfeited, sold, assigned, transferred, loaned, exchanged, or given away his discharge papers, or any control in the bounty provided by this or any other act of Congress, shall not be entitled to receive any additional bounty whatever; and when application is made by any soldier for said bounty he shall be required under the pains and penalties of perjury to make oath or affirmation of his identity, and that he has not so bartered, sold, assigned, transferred, loaned, exchanged, or given away either his discharge papers or any interest in any bounty as aforesaid, and no claim for such bounty shall be entertained by the Paymaster General or other accounting or disbursing officer except upon receipt of the claimant's of charge papers, accompanied by the statement under oath as by this section provided.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted that in the payment of the additional bounty here provided it shall be the duty of the Paymaster General, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War, to cause to be examined the acts of each and every soldier who makes application therefor, and if found entitled thereto, to pay said said bounty.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted that in the reception, examination, settlement and payment of claims for said additional bounty due the widow or heirs of deceased soldiers, the accounting officers of the treasury shall be governed by restrictions prescribed by the Paymaster General by the Secretary of War; and the payments shall be made in like manner under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury.

MAYOR Stevens, of Portland, Maine, acknowledges the receipt of private contributions from citizens, amounting to $23,096 30.

MONTANA RADIATOR.

The Daily Union-Edwards

Local and Miscellaneous.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The Union-Edwards is the pioneer daily newspaper of Utah. Its immense circulation in every mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, (to which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers), makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four central Territories.

C. J. GOLDRICK, traveling collector, for Union-Edwards subscriptions and advertisements, through the Pacific States and Territories.

See advertisement of men wanted.

Our Idaho exchanges speak of several companies leaving for the States, going via Salt Lake City.

Attention is called to the new law card of W. I. Appleby, Esq. The Judge is one of the pioneer lawyers of Utah.

The law office of John V. Long has been removed for the present to the residence of Mrs. Camp, in the 13th Ward.

GENERAL CONNER passed through Virginia City, Nevada, last Saturday on his way West.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVAL.—Among the passengers by the Sunday evening Northern coach was Hon. J. B. Weller, Ex-Governor of the State of California.

BURNING OF MARIPOSA.—The entire town of Mariposa, California, save five or six buildings, was destroyed by fire on the night of the 25th ult.

The attention of discharged soldiers is invited to the advertisement of J. R. Robinson's bounty and claim agency, San Francisco. Now that the bounty bill is passed the sooner claims are filed at the War Department the better.

FATHER KELLY.—We see by the Waybill of yesterday's Western coach that Father Kelly is en route to Salt Lake City. We hope that this time he will locate with us permanently.

LIEUT. GENERAL SHERMAN.—We understand that this distinguished commander will visit Denver before his return to the States, but we have not heard which way he will go from there.

Attention is directed to the card of the new law firm of Marshall & Carter. Both of these gentlemen have occupied a leading position among the attorneys of this city ever since their arrival in Utah.

DEPARTMENT OF THE PLAINS.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, in a letter dated Aug. 12th, says: The new department of Major General Alfred H. Terry, lately commanding in Virginia, will embrace Salt Lake City, where General Terry will establish his headquarters.

PERSONAL.—We neglected in our Saturday's issue to make special mention of the departure of Major J. W. Drew, U.S. Paymaster, who started for San Francisco last Friday. The Major has been on duty in Utah since last February, and during that time has formed a large circle of warm friends in this city. He was accompanied by his ever-popular clerk, ex-Lieut. Simmonds.

FROM FAIRBANKS.—Saturday night the second through coach from Fairbanks arrived in this city with a full mail and passenger list. The trip was made in just four days, and that time will be kept up. Mr. Reynolds will start for California in a few days to purchase additional stock, in order to carry out the proprietor's idea of making this one of the best lines in the Territories.

UTAH-NEVADA TRADE.—The attention of miners, mining agents and the merchants of Rush Valley, Ruby, Pahrump and Western Utah, as well as that of the Egan Cañon and Reese River mines, is especially called to the new advertisement of Messrs. Gillig, Mott & Co., the well known, extensive importers and shippers of mining hardware, steam goods, rubber and leather belting, pipes, copper wire, and rope, miner's goods, agricultural machinery, etc., etc., Virginia City, Nevada. Their stock is superior to anything between St. Louis and San Francisco, and their prices will be found cheaper and more satisfactory than by patronizing San Francisco, considering the extra freight and time of transportation. Desires of closing out a class of their mammoth stores, this heavy house will offer extra great inducements to trade from the several settlements and mining camps of Western and Southern Utah, and Eastern Nevada. Orders will be faithfully filled at less than can be purchased at the Bay. The road from Virginia to Austin and Egan Cañon, hence south or east, is such as to insure cheap and speedy transfer of this class of merchandise from the Metropolis of Nevada to the Utah market. We bespeak for them a large and growing patronage from our several mining sections and agricultural valleys west.

A dispatch dated Chico, August 27th says: The California and Idaho stage was stopped this morning by two highwaymen near the summit, fifty miles from Chico. Two passengers were robbed of six hundred dollars each. Wells Fargo & Co.'s treasure box was broken open, but no treasure was found. Six passengers were in the stage.
